NAMES OF THE POINTS

Blending the rich poetic quality of the point names with their practical application, this lecture presents an in-depth study of the point's names as the result of years of research in the Chinese classics as well as work and discussion with practitioners of Chinese medicine.

Friday Oct.30 : 10 am to 1 pm PDT - 2 pm to 5 pm PDT

This class explores the relation between the point's name and location as well as functions. Discuss how the point's names are related to the body form or function, cosmic order, royal palace, heavenly bodies as well as earthly features. Explain metaphors and analogies.

Monday Nov. 2, 9, 16 : 12:30 to 3:30 PDT

Each of these classes will study a specific group (or series) of points, connected or instance either through a common character in their names, or a similar location on the body, or their belonging to one section of a meridian and the story told by that sequence.
